

posted 02/01/08

[my mood: Pensive]

In search of D'Elidas.

For the record I am a fanatic about Hot Sauce. Sometimes I think my veins are coated in the stuff.

I'll eat it on just about anything. Breakfast, Lunch or Dinner it makes no difference. I am also notorious for putting hot peppers on my food if they are available.

I pepper the hell out of everything too. I think we have 3 pepper grinders. I use pepper as a starting point for most every dish we eat.

Like any Hot Sauce aficionado I have mild, mediums, hot and insane.

I always pull out the insane stuff for people who claim that they can take anything I can dish out. They never last very long. Some of that stuff takes a long time and a lot of practice before you can eat it with a straight face.

All right already old man, make your point.

My favorite Hot Sauce of all time teeters on the brink of Hot and Insanity. Right on the edge!! Unfortunately, I have to have my Panamanian friends bring it back to me when they visit Panama. It is almost impossible to find it here in the good old USA.

I'm down to my last 4 bottles...I blow through them at a rate of one every 2 weeks give or take a few days.

I have a case on the way. Nothing else will do.

What is this Stuff?

D'Elidas Habanero Hot Sauce!!!

Easily the best tasting hot sauce formula I have ever tried. My hot sauce friends love it too....

GRRRRR....

Now back to your regularly scheduled programming.

Peace be with you,

Bobby

Take the red one and never look back...

